SALISBURY, MD – March 16, 2009 - Wicomico Public Library is approaching its 140th year in service, and we want the public's help in celebrating the occasion by sending in their favorite memory of Wicomico Public Library throughout the years.

The official celebration will take place during National Library Week, April 12 through 18th when the chosen memories will be on display in the Main Library along with a historical timeline of the library.

Members of the public may go to the library's website, www.wicomicolibrary.org to submit their memories, email them directly to askus@wicomico.org, or by filling out a form at the Main Library.

"The Library is here for everyone," says Director Tom Hehman. "We have been serving the public for 140 years and we want to include everyone in our celebration."
